Real Estate Brokers.

(Successors of H. H. Blanchard.)

We are not land sharks. We use no stock, no money, or devices to deceive people into buying what they do not want. We sell property on the merits. We deal on the square and guarantee everything we sell. If you want to buy or rent a cheap or expensive farm, large or small, a cheap or expensive house and lot, or business block, or want something in the real estate line, we can supply your wants. Call on us and we will be glad to help you. If you want to follow in buying real estate, we will be glad to follow in the agents office talking of business, or a fellow comes in and wants it, don't buy. If you are going with an agent to see property, you must follow who wants that property don't buy. If you do buy, you will find out to late that the fellow who wants to buy is the agent's real client, and that he and the agent have put you in the middle. In all cases, you may be sure if the agent has a buyer, he will not lose any money with you. Before you buy real estate, convince yourself that you know what you are buying.

POOR-HOUSE HORROR.

Fourteen Paupers Burned to a Crisp in a Michigan Asylum.

Locked in Their Rooms the Horrible Flames Have Their Horrible Will—Bandits Abroad in Kansas.

GRAND JUNCTION, Mich., May 1.—The Van Buren county poor-house, situated three miles east of Hartford, was entirely destroyed by fire, and out of forty-five inmates fifteen were burned to a crisp and are absolutely unrecognizable. The fire broke out about 2 o'clock by a lamp, and owing to the high wind which was blowing at the time, and the absolute lack of facilities for checking the progress of the fire, the flames soon enveloped the whole of the rambling wooden structure, and within an hour it was a mass of smoking ruins. The fire appeared to have originated near the main stairway, and proceeded east by that way; besides, it was the custom to lock every inmate in his room at the hour of retiring, and as no provisions were made in the construction of the building for an outside exit, the unfortunate occupants of the upper rooms proved easy victims to the deadly flames. All the infirm and sickly patients were kept in rooms on the first floor and were removed in safety to outbuildings connected with the premises. A few escaped from the upper rooms by dropping from the windows, and one man nearly 90 years of age reached the roof of a shed and escaped unhurt. Not a sound was heard from the perishing occupants of the locked rooms above, and they were nearly all suffocated by the smoke before being reached by the flames. One man, wrapped himself in his bedding, and his was the only body that bore a semblance of a human form when removed from the ruins.

The following is a list of the dead, with the townships from which they were sent, respectively: Jimmy Johnson, Caroline Long, and Caroline Shearer, of Cover; Henry Baker and Mrs. Meyers, of Waverly; Benjamin Reynolds, Mrs. Curtis, and Mrs. Williams and daughters, of Brecksville; Jonathan Sargent, of Antwerp; Thomas Sawyer (colored), from Kalamazoo; Peter Goding, of Keeler; Fred Erbenburg, of Decatur; Debby Grant, of Waverly.

All the bodies were recovered, and the remains buried in the county farm cemetery. The building stood in an isolated place, remote from other dwellings, and three miles from the villages of Lawrence and Hartford. Apparently the management had never dreamed of a possible fire, and there were absolutely no facilities for preventing the progress of a blaze when under way. No night watch, fire-escapes, or even hose attachments were provided as security against destruction. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the lantern, which was near the portion of the building where the flames were first seen, and had made several attempts to burn the buildings before being admitted to the county-house.

The superintendent, Mr. Cash, who resided in the building, is exonerated from all blame in the matter, and has always performed his duties faithfully, the deficiency in the fire apparatus being due to an oversight on the part of those who have the general management of the institution.

The neighboring farmers and the villages of Hartford and Lawrence responded nobly to the call for help, and all the rescued are in comfortable quarters, and will receive all the attention required until the county can make some arrangements to provide for their welfare. Great excitement prevailed, and it is estimated that more than 5,000 people have visited the scene of the awful catastrophe. Extra trains were run on the Toledo & South Haven railroad, which crosses the poor-house, for the accommodation of the hundreds of anxious ones who came from adjoining villages to view the ruins. Public schools and places of business in Hartford were closed during the day. All turned their attention to the care of the rescued.

A Kansas Outrage.

HARTZ, Kan., May 1.—About 10 o'clock a. m., four men, armed with Winchester, rode up to the Medicine Valley bank, in Medicine Lodge, Barbour county, Kan. Two of them dismounted, went in and demanded that the combination and keys be delivered up, and they be informed where the securities were kept. The president and cashier, E. W. Payne and George Geppert, who were alone in the bank, refused to do, when the desperadoes opened fire on them, killing Geppert and mortally wounding Payne. The city marshal came up at this juncture and opened fire on the robbers, and in a short time a large number of citizens were on the scene. Hostilities then began, the robbers leaving as rapidly as possible.

In a few minutes a band of thirty men started in pursuit, armed and mounted. The country is excited. Foes of men are starting from all directions, the probabilities are that they will be captured or killed. In the state of feeling now existing they will be bagged as soon as captured.

The cashier, Geppert, was very highly esteemed among the people with whom he was associated, being one of the prominent business men in Medicine Lodge. Payne is an extensive cattle dealer, and one of the wealthiest men in southern Kansas.

Where the act was perpetrated is about thirty-five miles from Hartford. Its nearest railway point is near the spot where a few years ago Hilman, a man over whom the celebrated life insurance case is now pending in the United States circuit court, disappeared. The news came to Hartford by messenger from Medicine Lodge.

The Egyptian Situation.

CAIRO, May 1.—The news of the fall of Berlin is premature, as the government has received a dispatch from Khedive Pasha stating that the Egyptian army will hold the town and would be compelled to defend the place as it was too late to retreat, as all the roads were swarming with rebels. Khedive Pasha appeals for help, and begs that the garrison be not forsaken.

London, May 1.—The prospect that the proposed Egyptian conference will take place at an early day is not regarded as being bright. It is generally considered that France is playing "hard and low" and her objection to taking part in the conference is the discussion is limited to financial questions, is looked upon as a mere hunting.

60 Broadway, room 52, New York, March 2, 1883. Having been cured of a severe attack of rheumatism of the neck and shoulders by using Alcock's Porous Plasters, I feel it my duty to strictly recommend their use to any one similarly afflicted. For a period of several months I had exhausted many other so-called remedies without obtaining the slightest relief. Finally I applied one of Alcock's Porous Plasters and found myself cured in immediately. I consider them a true blessing.

Proceedings in Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The senate passed bills to authorize the Oregon Central road to bridge the Willamette river, and to ratify the agreement with three Indian tribes of Montana for a portion of their reservation to be required by the Northern Pacific road. When the shipping bill was taken up, Beck argued in favor of an amendment by Vest for the entrance of ship-building material free of duty and the admission to American registry of ships bought abroad. Frye gave figures to show how much lower was the rate of wages on board English ships than on American vessels.

The house of representatives passed a joint resolution authorizing the secretary of war, on proper application, to loan to the army for soldiers' uniforms and to grant commendation for meritorious service. In committee of the whole on the tariff bill, speeches were made by Messrs. Hewitt, Warner, Culberson, Millican, Dingley and Cushman. A bill was reported to secure postal telegraphy on the contract system.

ROYAL MARRIAGE BELLS.

Wedding of Queen Victoria's Grand-daughter, Princess Victoria of Hesse.

DARMSHART, May 1.—The little town of Darmsstadt is in holiday dress on the occasion of the marriage of Princess Victoria of Hesse, the oldest daughter of the late Princess Alice, third child of her majesty Queen Victoria, to Prince Louis of Battenburg, which was postponed from April 15 on account of the death of the duke of Albany. The ceremony was directed, on most of its splendor by reason of the dual court being in mourning, and but few guests, and most of those near relatives of the bride and groom, were invited. The marriage took place in the cathedral of the Darmstadt palace, which was far from being filled by the guests and attendants. Her majesty Queen Victoria and Princess Beatrice witnessed the ceremony from the court box in the gallery of the church, and were attended by Lord Chamberlain, the dowager marchioness of Ely; Gen. Bridport, and Sir Henry Ponsonby. The crown prince, Frederick William, and wife were also present. The procession followed in the following order: headed by Baron von Starck, governor of the household of the grand duke of Hesse; the brothers of the bride and groom; the members of the diplomatic corps, the cabinet ministers, the grand duke of Hesse; Prince Alexander of Bulgaria; the bride, the prince of Wales, the Princess Charles and the bridegroom, followed by numerous attendants. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the usual congratulations were offered by the guests to the bride and groom, and a hymn of blessing and good wishes for the bride and groom. In the evening the town was illuminated with merry making, and festivities at the dual palace were at full height.

WOULDN'T TAKE THOSE "PUTS."

James R. Keene, the Phillector, Said to Be "Squeezed."

NEW YORK, May 1.—Soon after the close of the stock exchange, a rumor spread through the city that James R. Keene had been "squeezed" out of his position as secretary of the Erie and Western Union. It is stated, however, that Mr. Keene's secretary said he would only talk to those personally interested in the matter. It is stated, however, that Mr. Keene paid out $175,000 on his puts and then laid down.

The facts as they are generally understood are these: Mr. Keene has been dealing very heavily in the market for the past few days. He has paid out money ranging from $175,000 to $200,000. Wednesday stocks were put to him which he did not take.

Concerning the failure to meet his obligations, Mr. Keene's secretary said: "I will not say that he was not able to take the stocks put to him, but it seems strange to me that he should neglect to fill his engagements if he has the means to do so. Perhaps he will come out all right."

It was reported from another source that Mr. Keene sold "puts" on 2,000 shares of Erie at 22, and on 2,000 shares of Western Union at 65. Erie went to 18 and Western Union touched 61 1/2. One person who had "put" on 500 shares of Western Union was said to have sent word to Mr. Keene that the shares would be "puts," and that Mr. Keene would be required to "face the music." It was further said that one of Mr. Keene's representatives made reply that the holder of the 500 shares "had better put them on the market or wait a day or two for Mr. Keene to take them."

When asked for information, Mr. Samuel W. Boocock, who has been for several years one of Mr. Keene's brokers, said: "Please don't expect me to give any information in this matter. I am only one of a dozen brokers with whom Mr. Keene has transacted business, and it cannot be expected that I know all about his affairs."

Late at night a gentleman who claimed to speak authoritatively, said: "Mr. Keene is perfectly able to meet his engagements, and he will fulfill all of his contracts on stock privileges."

DYNAMITE IN CANADA.

Discovery of Cartridges Under the Parliament Buildings.

TORONTO, Ont., May 1.—One of the sons of the carolers of the Ontario parliament buildings found under one of the windows of the crown land department two dynamite cartridges, each weighing about a quarter of a pound, with a fuse attached. All day he was explained by the government because alarmed, and ordered a search of the premises, and two other cartridges were found under the steps leading into the speaker's chamber. An expert stated that a single one of the cartridges contained sufficient explosive material to blow up either the eastern or western wing of the building, and together they were sufficient to destroy the entire structure. The crown lands department, where the first cartridges were found, contains the records of the provinces since its settlement.

Petroleum V. N. B.

D. R. Locke, Petroleum V. N. B., editor of the Toledo Blade, writes: "I had a forefinger of my right hand one of those pleasant pots, a 'run-round.' The finger became inflamed to a degree unbearable and swollen to nearly twice its natural size. A friend gave me the BURN'S Ointment, and I used it. The swelling went down, and the pain had so much subsided as to give me a fair night's rest, which I had not had before for a week. The inflammation left the finger in a day. I consider it a most valuable article."

We Represent THIRTY SOUND COMPANIES, being the largest agency in the Northwest. Among our companies are The Oldest, the Strongest in America, England, or in the World. They are truly TIME TRIED AND FIRE TESTED. Many of these Companies have been through all the terrible conflagrations of the last FIFTY OR ONE HUNDRED YEARS—the great fires of London, of New York, of Portland, of St. Louis, of St. Johns, of Boston and Chicago, and have always paid one hundred cents on the dollar and are now as SOLID AS THE ROCKS, after paying millions upon millions to their patrons. Between three and four hundred Insurance Companies in this country have gone to the wall—either failed outright or re-insured their risks and retired from the field since 1870, and more of the weaklings will go year by year. The one hundred millions of dollars annually destroyed by fire in this country is sure to bankrupt them. Our rates are as low as other responsible companies. All honest losses fairly and promptly adjusted and paid. The best is the cheapest.

ROYAL MARRIAGE BELLS.

Wedding of Queen Victoria's Grand-daughter, Princess Victoria of Hesse.

DARMSHART, May 1.—The little town of Darmsstadt is in holiday dress on the occasion of the marriage of Princess Victoria of Hesse, the oldest daughter of the late Princess Alice, third child of her majesty Queen Victoria, to Prince Louis of Battenburg, which was postponed from April 15 on account of the death of the duke of Albany. The ceremony was directed, on most of its splendor by reason of the dual court being in mourning, and but few guests, and most of those near relatives of the bride and groom, were invited. The marriage took place in the cathedral of the Darmstadt palace, which was far from being filled by the guests and attendants. Her majesty Queen Victoria and Princess Beatrice witnessed the ceremony from the court box in the gallery of the church, and were attended by Lord Chamberlain, the dowager marchioness of Ely; Gen. Bridport, and Sir Henry Ponsonby. The crown prince, Frederick William, and wife were also present. The procession followed in the following order: headed by Baron von Starck, governor of the household of the grand duke of Hesse; the brothers of the bride and groom; the members of the diplomatic corps, the cabinet ministers, the grand duke of Hesse; Prince Alexander of Bulgaria; the bride, the prince of Wales, the Princess Charles and the bridegroom, followed by numerous attendants. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the usual congratulations were offered by the guests to the bride and groom, and a hymn of blessing and good wishes for the bride and groom. In the evening the town was illuminated with merry making, and festivities at the dual palace were at full height.

James R. Keene, the Phillector, Said to Be "Squeezed."

NEW YORK, May 1.—Soon after the close of the stock exchange, a rumor spread through the city that James R. Keene had been "squeezed" out of his position as secretary of the Erie and Western Union. It is stated, however, that Mr. Keene's secretary said he would only talk to those personally interested in the matter. It is stated, however, that Mr. Keene paid out $175,000 on his puts and then laid down.

The facts as they are generally understood are these: Mr. Keene has been dealing very heavily in the market for the past few days. He has paid out money ranging from $175,000 to $200,000. Wednesday stocks were put to him which he did not take.

Concerning the failure to meet his obligations, Mr. Keene's secretary said: "I will not say that he was not able to take the stocks put to him, but it seems strange to me that he should neglect to fill his engagements if he has the means to do so. Perhaps he will come out all right."

It was reported from another source that Mr. Keene sold "puts" on 2,000 shares of Erie at 22, and on 2,000 shares of Western Union at 65. Erie went to 18 and Western Union touched 61 1/2. One person who had "put" on 500 shares of Western Union was said to have sent word to Mr. Keene that the shares would be "puts," and that Mr. Keene would be required to "face the music." It was further said that one of Mr. Keene's representatives made reply that the holder of the 500 shares "had better put them on the market or wait a day or two for Mr. Keene to take them."

When asked for information, Mr. Samuel W. Boocock, who has been for several years one of Mr. Keene's brokers, said: "Please don't expect me to give any information in this matter. I am only one of a dozen brokers with whom Mr. Keene has transacted business, and it cannot be expected that I know all about his affairs."

Late at night a gentleman who claimed to speak authoritatively, said: "Mr. Keene is perfectly able to meet his engagements, and he will fulfill all of his contracts on stock privileges."

DYNAMITE IN CANADA.

Discovery of Cartridges Under the Parliament Buildings.

TORONTO, Ont., May 1.—One of the sons of the carolers of the Ontario parliament buildings found under one of the windows of the crown land department two dynamite cartridges, each weighing about a quarter of a pound, with a fuse attached. All day he was explained by the government because alarmed, and ordered a search of the premises, and two other cartridges were found under the steps leading into the speaker's chamber. An expert stated that a single one of the cartridges contained sufficient explosive material to blow up either the eastern or western wing of the building, and together they were sufficient to destroy the entire structure. The crown lands department, where the first cartridges were found, contains the records of the provinces since its settlement.

Petroleum V. N. B.

D. R. Locke, Petroleum V. N. B., editor of the Toledo Blade, writes: "I had a forefinger of my right hand one of those pleasant pots, a 'run-round.' The finger became inflamed to a degree unbearable and swollen to nearly twice its natural size. A friend gave me the BURN'S Ointment, and I used it. The swelling went down, and the pain had so much subsided as to give me a fair night's rest, which I had not had before for a week. The inflammation left the finger in a day. I consider it a most valuable article."

BRIDGES. Everybody attend the circus to-night.

The marshal arrested three unruly drunks last night.

Janesville Chapter No. 3, Royal Arch Masons, occupy Masonic hall this evening.

Don't fail to attend the circus to-night. The canvas is water proof, and there will be no danger of getting wet.

Burr Robbins circus brought its accustomed rain—but this time the storm was not so severe as on former occasions.

Mr. Frank L. Stevens has moved his family from Monroe to this city, and is now occupying the residence of Mrs. D. R. Proper, on Center avenue.

John W. Bauman has bought the business of Mr. Worthington, on north Main street. All bills owed by the firm of Gus and John W. Bauman, will be paid by Gus Bauman.

Revel meetings will be held every evening at the Congregational church. There will be an inquiry meeting at 7 o'clock in the lecture-room and preaching in the audience-room at 7:45. All are cordially invited.

On Saturday last, while Dr. E. E. Loomis was out in the country attending to a professional call, some sneak thief entered his office and appropriated his Webster's dictionary, unabridged, and a valuable medical book.

Mr. Joseph Hunter has opened a new upholstery establishment on the corner of East Milwaukee and Bluff streets, and is prepared to do any and everything in his line in a workmanlike manner and at the lowest prices. Give him a call.

Madison Journal, of last evening:—Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Hanks gave a small but delightful company last evening, in honor of their guests, Miss Miss Dimock and Miss Miss Whittington, of Janesville. The young ladies will return to their homes the latter part of the present week.

Mr. J. C. Rubin will start for Fairbank, Dakota, next week, intending to locate in that town if everything is "O. K." if not, he will look around on Uncle Sam's domains for a first class residence. His family will remain in Janesville for a time.

The surgeon in charge of Mr. Charles J. Fox, an account of whose injuries were given last evening by the Gazette, reports that the sufferer passed a very uncomfortable and restless night. Two of Mr. Fox's ribs were broken by the fall, and he was otherwise considerably bruised.

All Beloit will turn out to-morrow, according to the Beloit Free Press, to see "Delavan" handle his big team in the great street parade of the Burr Robbins' show. "Del" would make a good drawing card, if properly advertised in advance of his show, but there are so many attractions connected with the exhibition that it is impossible to mention all in the advance columns.

The season of Prof. Severance's dancing school closed with the "colico party" at Apollo hall last evening, and was the occasion of the gathering of a very large crowd of young people, most of whom have been regular in their attendance at the weekly socials given by the Professor during the past season. Prof. Severance announced that he would be here a second time on the first of October next to conduct another term of similar socials.

At St. Patrick's church, yesterday morning, Reverend Father McGinnity performed the ceremony by which the name of Miss Joanne O'Neal was changed to Mrs. Dennis Morrissey, thus uniting for life two worthy souls. Both the young people are of this city; and their many friends extend the best of good wishes for their successful journey through future years. They will continue to reside among us, occupying a pleasant home of their own in the first ward.

We notice by the May gas bills, as presented by Supt. Merrill, of the gas company, that another tumble in the price of gas has taken place. It now costs only $2.30 per 1000 cubic feet to all consumers who are in the habit of paying their bills promptly. This, we believe is the lowest price for good gas in the west outside of Chicago and Milwaukee. There is now no need of being without good light by those living on streets where the gas mains are laid.

Mr. John Parish, aged about 35 years, died at his home on Milton avenue at ten o'clock this morning, after a somewhat protracted illness. The deceased formerly resided in the town of Janesville and Rock, and removed to this city about two months ago. He was a member of Wisconsin Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F., under whose direction the funeral will be held, the arrangements for which have not yet been completed. Besides a large circle of friends, he leaves a wife and three children to mourn his death.

If the editor of the City Times will call at our office, we will take great pleasure in calling upon "the saloon keeper referred to who expected to pay $150 license, and especially the one that says he would have been satisfied with that sum," and give him an introduction to one of the strongest democrats in this city, the editor of the Times not excepted; and after this, we will introduce him to three others, of the same opinion, two of whom are also democrats. We have no desire to parade their names before the public. Have you time to call?

Mayor Richardson put himself on record at the meeting of the council last evening, regarding the enforcement of the excise laws. In this he will be seconded by the majority of the saloon keepers, as well as by every respectable man, woman and child in the city. But, Mr. Mayor, and gentlemen of the common council, is it possible for our worthy and efficient city marshal to keep a close watch on the many saloons, when scattered over so much territory? It is an easy matter to scatter the saloons, but Marshal Hogan will find it a difficult task to scatter himself in such a way as to keep an eye upon all of them. Nevertheless, we earnestly hope that he will meet with success, not that he has so good backing.

Prevent sickness by taking occasional doses of Emory's Little Cathartic Pills, a wonderful appetizer, an absolute cure of biliousness—15 cents.

CITY GOVERNMENT. Forty-six Applications for Saloon Licenses Acted Upon. Only Forty-three Licenses Granted by the Council.

Miscellaneous Doings of the Council. The common council met in the city hall last evening at 7:30 o'clock, pursuant to adjournment. His Honor, Mayor Richardson, in the chair, and all the aldermen in their seats.

On motion of Ald. Daly, the reading of the journal of the last meeting was dispensed with.

The clerk read the bill of E. M. Hyzer, for ten days' work compiling the index of the new city charter, five dollars per day—fifty dollars; and that of C. L. Clarke, as clerk, ten days at two dollars per day—twenty dollars. A few other unimportant bills were read and referred.

The clerk read a petition of property owners asking for a sidewalk on the south side of Pleasant street between Pine and Center avenues. Referred to the aldermen of the fifth ward.

The clerk read the applications of forty-six applicants for retail liquor licenses, and twenty-three for wholesale licenses, each accompanied by the usual bond and treasurer's receipt. The applications were from the following persons:

W. H. Carroll, North River street. Jas. Ryan, No. 72 West Milwaukee street. T. R. Gray, No. 11, North Main street. Thos. Welch, Corner West Milwaukee and Marion streets. O. E. Smith, Swiss saloon, Franklin street. W. H. Laird, No. 111, West Milwaukee street. J. Spence, City hotel, North Main street. A. A. Yivan, No. 24, East Milwaukee street. Bender, No. 62 North Main street. Mary Mackin, No. 79 West Milwaukee street. Wm. Canary, corner Marion and Wall streets. Wm. Schlenk, Locust street. S. Beckwith, Grand hotel, West Milwaukee street. Jas. Dee, West Milwaukee street. John Douth, Tallman's block, South River street. Anton Beland, Union hotel, North First street. Ben George, No. 75, West Milwaukee street. P. Dolan, Scamler's building, Pleasant street. Fred R. Jones, Welch's building, East Milwaukee street. J. G. Todd, alley east end of bridge. George R. Shaw, No. 49, North Main street. Wm. Henning, No. 55 West Milwaukee street. Adam Holt, railroad hotel, Academy street. Thos. Graham, Farmers' hotel, East Milwaukee street. F. C. Stillson, No. 4, West Milwaukee street. P. Connors, No. 63 West Milwaukee street. John Shucker, Church's block, Franklin street. J. G. M. Ehrlinger, South River street. Ehrlinger & Church, Church block, West Milwaukee street. Wm. Cunningham, No. 35, West Milwaukee street. David Myers, No. 63, North Main street. L. Wyler, No. 22, East Milwaukee street. J. Livingston, Myers house. S. Dewey, No. 70, West Milwaukee street. Max Pfeuwig, corner of Wall and Academy streets. J. Hoffmaster, No. 30 East Milwaukee street. Geo. L. Hackleman, No. 62, West Milwaukee street. Wm. Sillito, No. 69, North Main street. Wm. Weiss, North Franklin street. The same were referred to the judiciary and license committees.

On motion the council took a recess for half an hour, to give the committee time to examine the bonds, and agree upon a report.

The committee having concluded their examination, the council was called to order when Ald. Daly, of the judiciary committee, reported that the bonds of all the applicants were in due form and satisfactory good, and they were accepted.

Ald. Shearer, of the license committee, reported in favor of granting a retail license to all the applicants except W. H. Carroll, Wm. Canary, O. C. Poll, Ben George, and Mary Mackin, were laid over until the next meeting.

On motion of W. H. Carroll, the application of W. H. Carroll, Wm. Canary, O. C. Poll, Ben George, and Mary Mackin, were laid over until the next meeting.

Ald. Shearer, of the same committee, reported in favor of granting a wholesale license to each of the following parties: William Sillito, John Kenyon, William Henning, L. Wyler, F. C. Stillson, Anton Beland, J. P. Worthington, A. W. Bauman, T. R. Gray, Thomas Welch, Patrick Connors, J. G. M. Ehrlinger, James Ryan, Fred R. Jones, Adam Holt, William Schlenk, John M. Bauman, O. E. Smith, Peter Delan, Thomas Kelly, and Ehrlinger & Church.

The report was concurred in and the licenses granted by a close vote.

On motion of Ald. Shearer, the applications of Mary Mackin, Ben George, and W. H. Carroll, for a wholesale license, were laid over until the next meeting.

The Weather. At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 58 degrees above zero. Cloudy, with north wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 63 degrees above zero. Cloudy with light rain and north wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago, the register was 44 and 69 degrees above zero.

THE STREET DISPLAY. The Burr Robbins New Consolidated Railroad Show. This magnificent display of glittering pagantry, which has been anxiously awaited by our people for some days, gladdened the hearts of thousands of eager spectators between eleven and twelve o'clock this forenoon. The indications during the early morning were strongly in favor of the usual rain-storm on the occasion of the initial street parade of Col. Robbins' show; notwithstanding the clouds were thick and threatening but very little rain fell to dampen the enthusiasm of the multitude that thronged the public streets. Although it was announced that the grand street parade would not take place until eleven o'clock, the streets and sidewalks were crowded with people by nine, and at that time the procession commenced to move it was almost impossible to pass along the walks on Main and Milwaukee streets. The procession was over a mile in length and while it did not contain so many tableaux cars as are seen with some shows, it consisted of one of the best exhibition of rolling stock, cages, dogs, equestrian displays, etc., ever seen here. Two excellent brass bands are with the exhibition this year; Goin's Georgia band, occupying a handsome band chariot in the advance, and at the head of the second division a band composed of Sioux Indians rendered the music.

The parade, the first of the season, and consequently formed under many disadvantages, was one of the most attractive seen in our city, and Col. Robbins and sides can rest assured that it was highly appreciated by the people of this city, all of whom will wish him a most prosperous season as they move out of the Bowery city.
